

Figure 6. Why D6 exists: identical folds and data, one statistic blind to the effect
Both panels share a 0.5-wide y range, so the contrast is in the data, not the axes.

